The statesman from Clinton, Iowa, new goods, the latter, broken lots. and the sage of Medicine Lodge represent rural interests, and Mr. Simpson especially can be regarded as an exponent of the idea that in the agricultural districts are found the healthy patriotism, the purity and wisdom which are to save the country, Hence the term "country lawyer" could not in their minds be associated with any idea of dispraise. Had they said "city lawyer" it might be argued that they meant to attach to the President's utterances some notion of disingenuousness and cunning, such as all men of bucolic life, who may perhaps at some time or other have fallen into the hands of bunco men or other city sharpers, are apt to attribute to all things belonging to the city. It is undoubtedly true, as these champions of all things rural possibly suggest, that the "country lawyer" has done a great deal toward making this a great nation It requires only a brief consideration of historic names to discover that many of the men to whom the republic is most indebted were country lawyers.

EXHIBITION OF DRESS GOODS FOR STREET AND EVENING WEAR.

A unique collection at the Palais Royal; a gathering the outcome of more thought than is usual. The reason is obvious; lack of room makes it necessary to be careful that not a shelf or counter shall contain any but most desirable stock. Thus it is we have no room for low-price domestic fabrics or for the creations that are only admired because very expensive. Our buyer has been again and again complimented by the agents of the great importing houses and also by merchants of other cities who, when visiting Washington, seldom leave without a visit to the Palais Royal. The opinions of such authorities are of value: "The cleanest and best assorted stock I have seen."..... "I don't see an undesirable piece of goods."..... "Your buying does you credit." Such are a few of the criticisms of experts who have lately visited the store.

WHAT DO YOU THINK!

Since the bulk of the importations of fabrics for Spring Dresses have arrived, and not a few Evening Silks, at price surprises, have just been added to greater part of the time given by the court to stock, we are naturally anxious to learn the opinions the case has been occupied by the counsel for of our patrons and friends, and request a call as soon the property owners, who have presented ably as convenient, promising the thoughtful and pointe atand in the fullest manner, and from every pos- tention of elerks who are intelligent enough to know that your visit doesn't necessarily imply a desire to

THREE THOUGHTS FOR THINKERS

Anything that's business suits men-and we make it a business to have the FINEST OVERCOATS that can be. Ready for you to put on and wear. All the "fuse and feathers" of tailors eats up your time and patience and money, too. Get into one of ours and you can "look the whole world in the face"-for the art

You'll need a cost a good long spell yet.

Winter has been husbanding the fury for the finish. The best OVERCOATINGS milled are Schnables Chinchilias, West of England Kerseys, Carr's Meltons, F. and

H. Contings, Irish Frieze, Mentagnac

Beavers and fabrics akin. They cost so much it shuts them out of the stores who have to depend on outside makers. That's where that profit goes we tell ue save you by being our own manufacturers-INTO

THE COATS. Strike into our line anywhere $20 or $25-and follow it up to the end-$50-and you'll see as good as can be shown by the best custom tailors in spite

WHICH PHOTOGRAPH WELL

Talvet and plush are not desirable, except for trimmings. Black silk can be worn to advantage by almost any one. Woolen goods photograph well, especially in the vignette picture, they being less liable to wrinkle and crease than either satin or allk.
